Volume 75

Shooting forward ... Advancing ... We, as Windber Area High School seniors, have been forging ahead since the first day we entered the building, some five years ago. Constantly making changes, improving, and progressing, we have learned from the mistakes we have made in the past, are making the most of the present, and look to the future with hope. This drive onward does not end as we graduate, but it is the beginning of a whole new phase, where we shall continue our maturation process throughout the remainder of our lives. Therefore, the 1977 Stylus Staff has thought it appropriate to revolve our book around the theme of motion. We hope to provide you with an entertaining and informative look at how we have advanced in all directions during our fleeting years within the scholastic walls of W.A.H.S. May you turn back frequently to these pages in the years to come, and reflect on all the cherished memories of our youth.

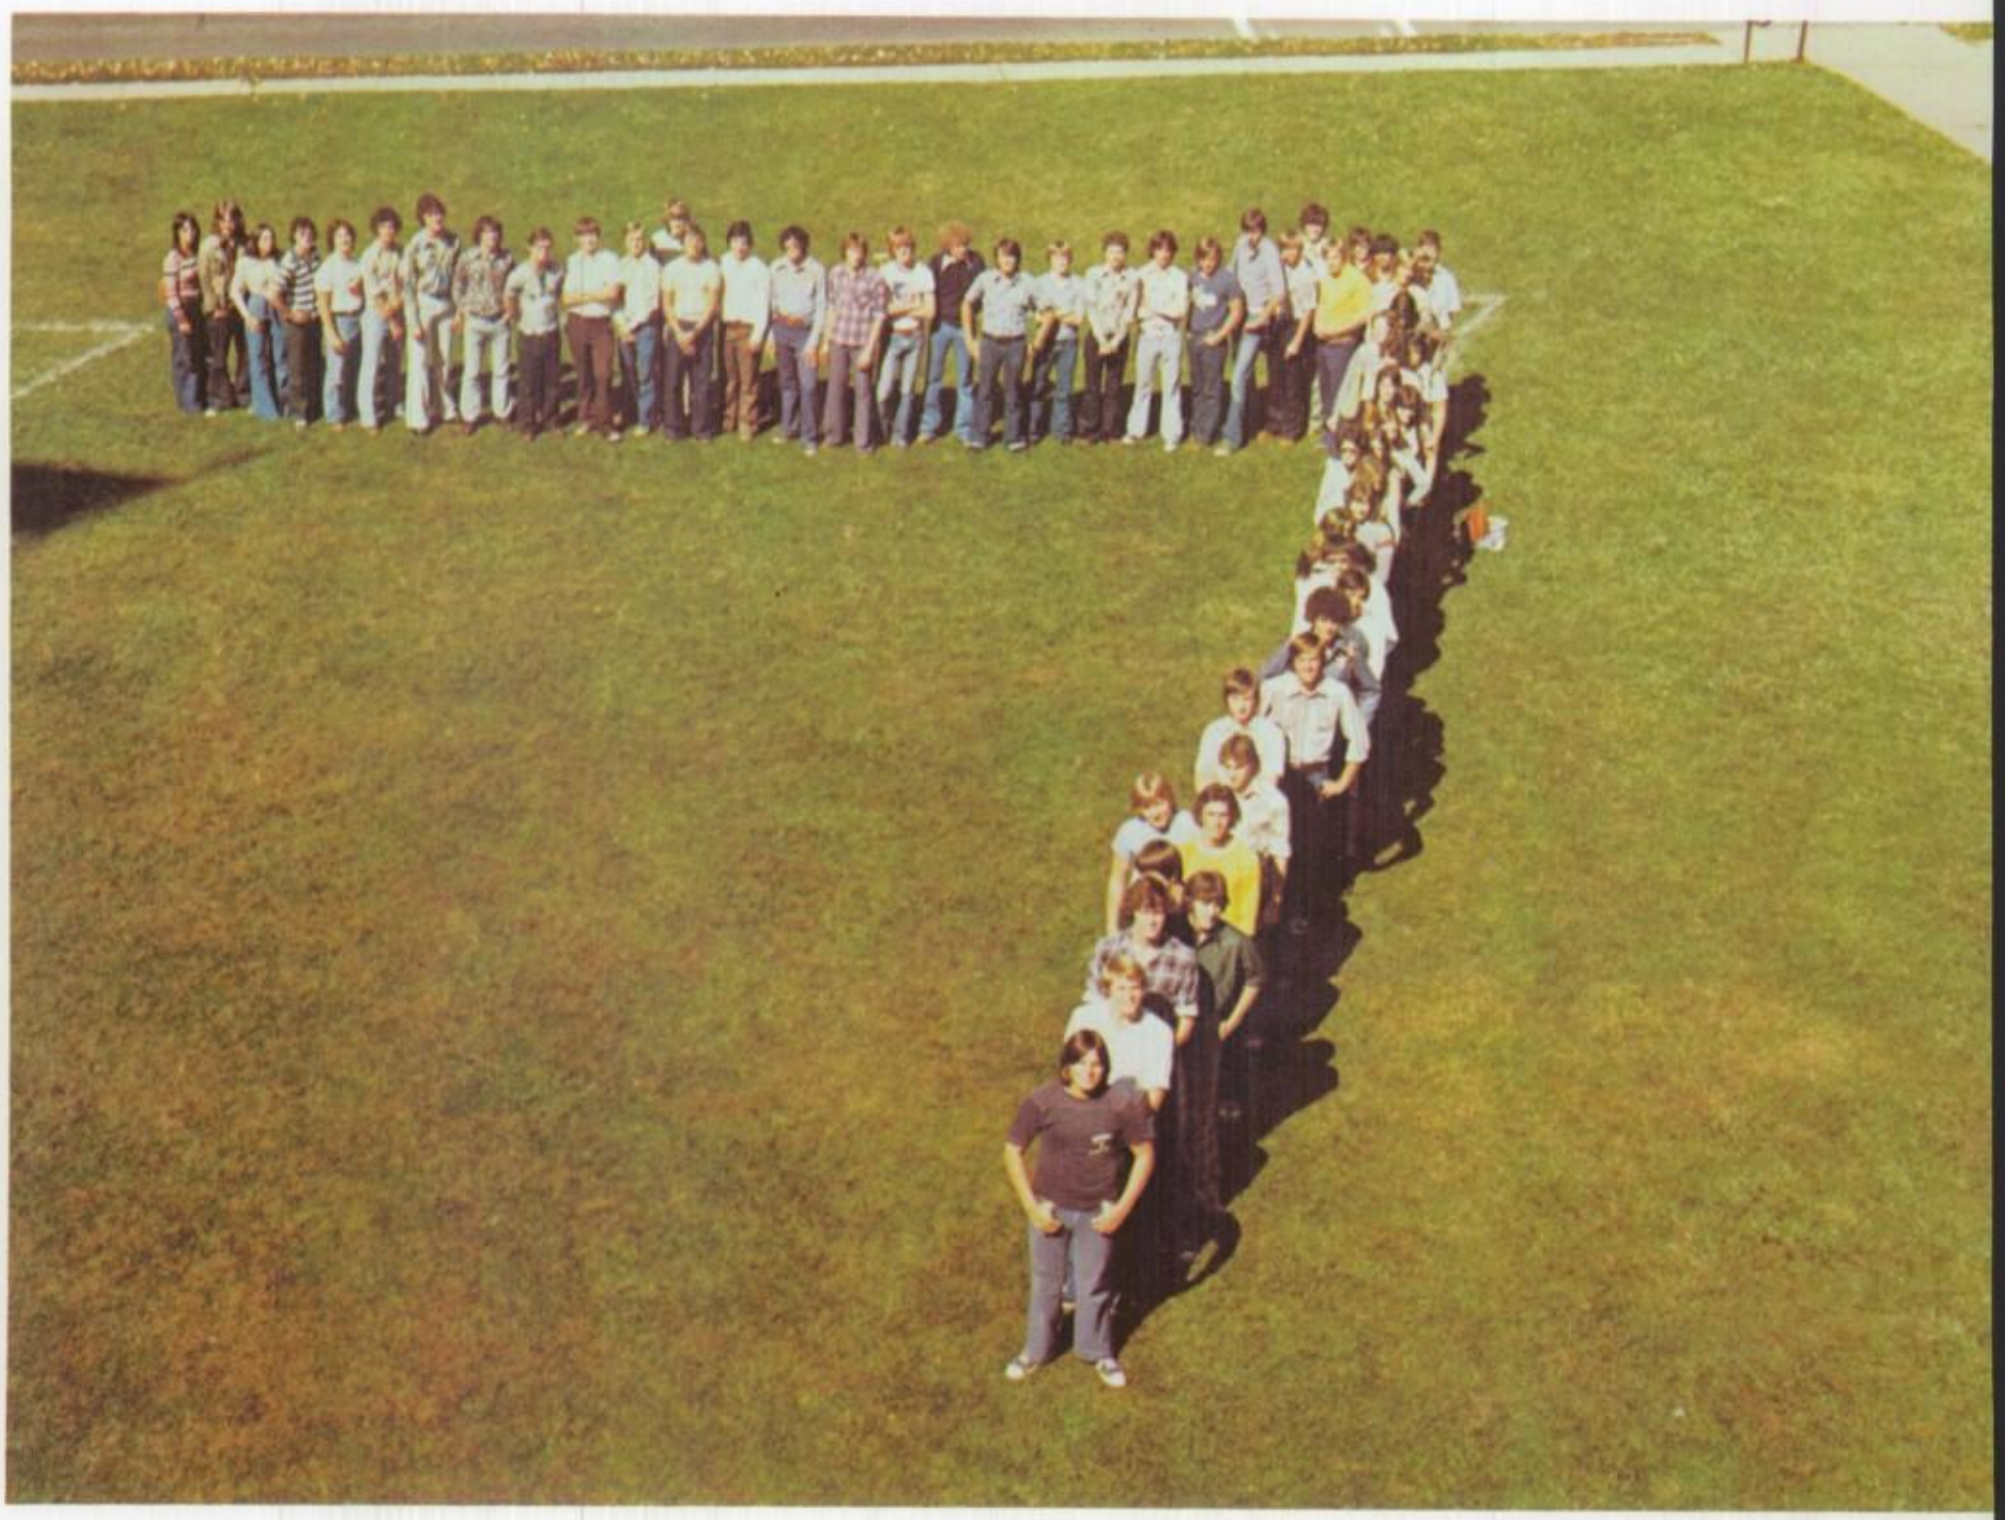
CLASS OF . . .



Yesterday is but a dream,
Tomorrow is only a vision;
But, today, well lived,
Makes every yesterday a dream of happiness,
And every tomorrow
A vision of hope.

The 1977 graduating class of Windber Area High School has had many good times in the years we have been together. We can never overlook the memories of those six long years which now seem to have passed too quickly. Each day of experience has had some influence on us. It has changed and shaped the personality and values of each individual. Those wonderful class parties, dances, clubs, and the excitement of new friends have seemed to have taken much of the pain and despair out of growing up.

Our years in Jr. High, including those fun skating parties, now seem of little importance but remain as lasting memories.

The addition of the first semi-formal dance was an added excitement to our Freshman class activities but is now a fragment of our past.

In our first year in Senior High, our Sophomore class was involved in many more activities and dances. But from that year on, our goal was to become seniors.

The annual magazine sale in our junior year had been a success and the profit was to be used to make our Junior-Senior Prom and our Senior class activities the best ever.

All those years have passed and we have finally become seniors. We can only recount those yesterdays and what we have gone through to be the next class to graduate.

Our school has given much more to its students than just a fundamental education. Together, we students have learned to share the exchange of ideas that help us live in today's world. Our activities have helped us build in sportsmanship, tolerance, and respect. Our challenges, confronted, have helped us form our personal decisions. Our school days have played a large role in each student's maturing and development. Our experiences have helped make us what we are today.

We are graduating, and our future is just beginning. We cannot foresee what we will be or what we will do. We can only visualize and hope for the best. We must understand the mistakes we have made and not make them again. We must also remember the good times and treasure them forever. We can hold fast to these memories but can no longer live them. We must decide upon the future and make tomorrow's experiences our greatest of memories.

"The best verse hasn't been rhymed yet,
The best house hasn't been planned,
The highest peak hasn't been climbed yet,
The mightiest rivers aren't spanned
Don't worry and fret faint hearted
The chances have just begun
For the best jobs haven't been started
The best work hasn't been done."

A Tribute To Those Who Mourn

I stood alone atop the hill where all our departed loved ones now rest. It was early on a March morning. I could feel the wind against my body. It was not the cold breeze of winter that leaves one in a bundle of shivers, but instead, a warm lifegiving breeze. It was the breath of the Lord, and as it wound about the bare branches of the trees it whispered, "REJOICE! REJOICE! Death is not extinquishing the light; it is putting out the lamp because the dawn has come!"
And suddenly, I was no longer alone . . .

LOADSTAR 1700

ADMINISTRATION, SERVICES FACULTY, &

Dr. Charles A. Landis – Superintendent of Schools

B.A. – Ohio Wesleyan University
M.A. – Syracuse University
D. Ed. – Penn State University

To the Class of 1977:

Perhaps more than any other single event in your life, the receipt of your high school diploma represents entrance into the adult world. Whether you continue your education or immediately enter an occupation, you will have increasing responsibilities for the maintenance of our society. During your days at Windber Area High School, my hopes are that you have learned that personal involvement is the cornerstone of our democratic way of life; that you have been given the tools to help you make wise decisions in the presence of a complex and rapidly changing world.

On behalf of the Board of Education, faculty and administration, thank you for your contributions to your school. I trust that each of you will find success and happiness in your years to come.

Frank P. Alcamo – High School Principal

B.S. – Indiana University of Pa.
M.Ed. – Pennsylvania State University

The position of principal requires a person who possesses the qualities of integrity, leadership, responsibility, and authority. All of this, plus a special difference can be found in Mr. Frank P. Alcamo. That difference is that he is not only respected as an advisor, but as a person in whom students can place their trust.

In his continuing services as principal, Mr. Alcamo has shown that the student body and faculty can rely on him in any matter concerning the school. This can be seen in the area of student activities and achievements which are a concern and a joy for Mr. Alcamo. He is involved directly with us, the students; and we greatly value his administration.

Virgil Palumbo – Assistant Principal

B.S. – Mansfield State College
M.Ed. – Frostburg State College

Serving as the assistant principal, Mr. Virgil Palumbo has proven to be a very capable administrator. Through his day to day experiences with the students, Mr. Palumbo has shown his dedication to the school as well as cooperation and a desire for fairness. We can depend on his aid to obtain a smooth operation of the school.

SCHOOL BOARD – Row 1: Irvin K. Berkey, Secretary; Henry A. Polasko, Vice-President; Raymond E. DiBattista, President; Charles G. Panetti, Treasurer. Row 2: Vincent F. Keilman, Clayton H. Ott, Charles K. Bantley, Dr. Christopher Y. Chweh.

The first Windber School Board of 1903 consisted of only six members. Since then, many changes have taken place including an increase in membership. There are now nine members, to reflect the ever changing growth of the school district. As with the school board of 1903, Windber Area's present board is concerned with the operation of the school. Even more, they are concerned with the well-being of students. The school board is also willing to contribute funds which they feel will benefit the student body.

Memories.

Years, perhaps decades from now, we will look back nostalgically at our high school years, and laugh, and remember.

But memory, unlike a good wine, does not improve with age. Some of the best times may have slipped through our minds like sand through our fingers.

As it has been said many times before, a single picture is worth a thousand words. Paging through a yearbook releases the floodgates, and old, familiar faces and situations come floating by. One can get this feeling even going from one year to the next within school years.

We, of the Stylus Editorial Staff, hope that we have created a yearbook capable of releasing these memories years from now. Putting together such a book takes lots of hard work, dedication, and patience. Sometimes the work was fun, sometimes frenzied, but always we gave it our best. Now we can sit back, and view the completed project, and proudly say, "This is our yearbook."

We hope you enjoy it as much as we enjoyed bringing it to you.

To put together a yearbook is hard work. But no matter who works on it, or for how long, all that work is useless – unless there is enough money to publish the book.

The total cost of the yearbook is the responsibility of the Business Staff. Selling the yearbook is only a small part of the job. The price of the Stylus has remained fairly constant over the past few years, but production costs have risen sharply. So staff members must do a thorough job of selling ads to local merchants. This involves much leg work, all of which must be done on their own time. Money also comes from patrons, and assessments.

Also, Business Staff members and Editorial Staff members must work closely with each other. When an editor needs typing done, a Business Staffer gets the job. And when the Business Staff needs help selling and delivering the yearbooks, the editors are called upon.

Teamwork, and individual effort, mixed in the proper amounts, equals the Stylus.

FIDELITAS ERUDITIO INTEGRITAS

STAFF: Karen Bossi, Sandra D'Arcangelo, Bill Koshute, Kim Callihan, Joyce Crum, Karen Carolus, Jaemie Moschgat, Mary Anne Izing, Miss Miller

And time marches on. In 1926, school news was spread by means of printed sheets pasted on a large balloon, and the Hi-Times was born. Today, 50 years later, it has changed both form and content.

The Hi-Times is published bi-weekly, and provides a source of school news not only to students, but to teachers, administrators, parents, and anyone else interested. On the Editorial Page, students and faculty can express their opinions in a Letter to the Editor. School Sports is given fine coverage, as is the world of music. Other features include a horoscope, a "Top Ten LP's" list, artwork, and answers to sometimes serious, and sometimes nonsense questions asked by the staff reporters.

As with any publication, staff members can take pride in seeing the finished product in print, knowing that once again they have overcome the difficulties, beaten the deadlines, and managed to come up with a quality newspaper.

The Sr. Edition is the best record of the accomplishments of the Senior Class to be found. It includes a history of everything from sports to class activities to organizations.

This is the first year that the Sr. Edition is separate from the Hi-Times. In previous years, the Sr. Edition was compiled by a few dedicated Journalism students. This year, a staff of volunteers has done the work.

Announcers

The most frequently used of the news-gathering services is the Announcement Staff. It is also the newest, since it was only four years ago that a student was first heard regularly over the airwaves.

Twice a day, these volunteer Seniors can be heard braving the dangers of tounge-twisting announcements, often being read with no chance to look them over first. Only one who has gone through this treacherous course can appreciate the possible pitfalls (and embarrassments) involved.

DAR AWARD WINNER: Kathy Dill

TRIBUNE-DEMOCRAT PLAYER-SCHOLAR: Ray Palumbo

The DAR Award Winner is the Senior girl who exemplifies the qualities of dependability, service, leadership, and patriotism. She is chosen by a vote of the Senior Class and takes a series of for State and National awards.

The Tribune-Democrat Player-Scholar is the senior football player who best shows leadership, both on the field and in the classroom. He is chosen by a vote of the entire football team.

The National Honor Society is composed of Seniors that have maintained a superior academic record through high school. Chosen in the spring of their Junior year, members must also be active in extracurricular activities, and live the motto of Service, Character, Scholarship, and Leadership.

During the football season, members sell football chances at all the home games. Thanks to several heavily attended games, this year has been one of the Society's most profitable seasons.

Another fund-raising activity is Slave Day. For a small fee, members will do all of a student's work for a period. Dressed in bed sheets, slaves often have to do things that have nothing to do with school.

Senior High Sch

Windber is known for high achievements in many areas, not the least of which is our music program. In recent years, the Windber Area High School Band has become known far and wide as one of the finest bands in Central-Western Pennsylvania.

Mike's Musicmakers have pleased thousands of fans with their half-time shows at football games; however, this is just a small part of their program. They also march in local parades; still, this is not for what they are best known.

For the Band, like any other activity, is at its best when it is in competition. This is evident by the many First Place trophies and ribbons they have gathered, including: being the only band to win at the annual UPJ Homecoming Parade (1971-72-73-74); first place, Class A, at the "Cavalcade of Bands." in Martinsburg, Pa. (1974-75-76); first place at the Preakness Festival Parade, Baltimore, Md. (1976); first place at the annual Maple Festival, Meyersdale, Pa. (1975-76), and many, many others. Indeed, it has been over five years since the Windber Band has come back empty handed from a competition.

And yet, even this is not all, because these achievements are just from the band as a whole. Out of the playing band come such groups as the Stage Band, and representatives on the District Band. And the Band as a whole is not the only competitive group. Within it, the Majorettes and also the Colorguard enter several separate competitions a year.

Yes, many long hours of practice were put in by all the band members to achieve the many honors that they have received. One must remember, however, that none of it could have been possible if it were not for one very special director. Mr. Clawson perhaps has done more than any one person for the general welfare of the Band. He has truly been a devoted director. Many people do not realize the countless hours of preparation involved in making up the shows, as well as all the time spent working with the band, teaching them what has been prepared. Even then the work was not done. He was constantly making changes, striving to improve his Band in any way possible.

Thanks just does not seem like a big enough word for all that Mr. Clawson has done for the Band. He has been an inspiration who has guided his members through some difficult times. They have come through these however, and perhaps become a better band because of them. More than anything else, Mr. Clawson has taught the Band one very important thing: there is no greater satisfaction than that which is attained when one knows they have done their very best and really given 250 percent.

Accompanying Mr. Clawson in his duties, and beside him all the way, are his excellent staff. These people also put in much time and diligence for the benefit of the Band. They are all qualified instructors who constantly could be seen helping in any way possible.

In addition, the Band Boosters are also an integral part of the Band. Without them, the many trips could never have been made. Constantly working on a fund-raising project, their help has proved invaluable.

Because of the Boosters support, the W.A.H.S. Band is dressed in all new uniforms and has a new image this year. The band members take pride in the fact that they have have been able to please thousands of viewers and reach their goal of "Spirit and Excellence," even through a heavy schedule. In addition to fall competitions, the Band performed at half-time shows at every football game, participated in many parades, gave a special exhibition at the 2nd Annual "Showcase of Bands" at Windber Stadium, and made a special Spring trip. Maintaining their reach for absolute perfection through a long season, the Windber Band well deserves all the praise that has been bestowed upon it.

One of the overlooked groups in the school is the Jr. High Band. Being a Jr. High organization, it naturally gets less attention from students, especially upperclassmen, than it should. The Jr. Band also has the added burden of being in the shadow of a famous "big brother", the Sr. Band.

But stop and think a minute; how is the Sr. Band formed? Where do the members learn the basics of showmanship? In the Jr. High, of course. The Jr. High Band provides a chance for Jr. High Students to get acquainted with the discipline needed for band competition. Through actual performances in parades and a spring concert, students are readied for the move into Sr. High.

Musical vocalists have an excellent opportunity to display their talents at Windber. The Chorus is always available to help train gifted individuals, both as soloists and in harmonizing within a group.

The Chorus opens its season early, with the Annual Candy Sale during the first weeks of school. Practices begin almost immediately and it is not uncommon to walk down the Music Hall in the first part of October and hear Christmas Carols.

The Jr. and Sr. High Choruses jointly present a Christmas Concert in December. The Jr. High features old and new Christmas Carols, while the Sr. High presents a Christmas Cantata. Folk groups and soloists are also featured.

In the spring, members of the Sr. High group represent Windber in the District Chorus. Also, Jr. and Sr. High again jointly sponsor a concert.

Scholastic Quiz

In the past few years, much interest has been aroused in the Scholastic Quiz Team. Windber is one of only thirty-two schools invited to compete in the "game of quick recall" of general knowledge, which is co-sponsored by WJAC-TV and the University of Pittsburgh at Johnstown.

Due to the situation of elimination rounds, the Scholastic Quiz Team is the only team, athletic or non-athletic, that must be undefeated to compete. Since it is unnatural for anyone to want to be eliminated, many hours of practicing, and studying trivia books are needed for the team members.

This year, something new has been added – the Scholastic Club. Membership is limited to those interested in Scholastic Quiz, but for one reason or another, could not make the team. Their job is to make up questions for team practice sessions.

One of the hardest working and most useful organizations in the school is the Library Club. Before, during, and after school each day, members keep order and provide assistance to students and faculty alike. This is no easy job, since the Library is the favorite place for a student who is working on a research project, and it seems there is never only one research going on at a time.

In addition to keeping the library running smoothly, club members also sell candy at the home basketball games to earn money for a spring trip.

P.T. Youth Advisory Board

One of the most glamorous groups in the school is the Penn Traffic Youth Advisory Board. This year's Board members are Senior Sylvia Bazzloi and Junior Diane Tokarsky. The girls represented not only our school, but also Penn Traffic, in several community-related functions.

Perhaps the best known of the activities is the "Now Hour." Several Saturday's a year, the girls from Windber host a one-hour radio program, live on WCRO with Advisory Board members from another school. During the broadcast, they give school news, do interviews, give weather reports, and introduce records.

Other projects include several Fashion Shows during the year, occasionally modeling jobs at PT. And, as Diane found out, the job can include modeling fashions for television commercials.

Jr. High Pep Club

It is sometimes difficult to gather interest in Jr. High games in this area. Luckily, at our school we have an organization whose sole purpose is support of the Jr. High athletes. This is the Jr. High Pep Club, spearheaded by the Jr. High Cheerleaders.

Actually, this is really two organizations, since the Cheerleaders are a separate entity. True, they are active in Pep Club activities, such as Bake Sales. But where Pep Club members attend most of the Jr. High games, the Cheerleaders attend all of them.

Also, there are no "Pep Club Contests", but there are Cheerleading Contests, and this is where the uniforms make the difference. The Jr. High Cheerleaders attended the Altoona Cheering Contest in October, and their efforts were rewarded by a Second Place Trophy for their cheer, "The Rambler Train."

Throughout the fall and winter, there is a common sight at all athletic contests, no matter what the sport: the ten Varsity and/or five JV cheerleaders. The rhythmic clapping and yelling of these dedicated girls helps gather student support behind our athletes which can and has been a decisive factor in close contests.

Practicing cheers, and making up new ones, takes many hours of hard work and dedication. And since the cheerleaders are best known for being at all athletic competitions, it might be easy to forget that they compete, themselves. Although it is the Varsity Squad that enters the competition, the JV Cheerleaders must always be ready to substitute for a sick or injured regular.

This year, the girls proved that hard work and ignoring small aches and pains can pay off. They took first place in the 33rd Annual War Memorial Cheerleading Contest in Johnstown with the spectacular, as well as difficult, "Rambler Round-Up."

The Sr. High Student Council consists of two elected representatives from each Sr. High homeroom. Its purpose is to voice the students' opinions and ideas, develop and practice good citizenship, and promote scholarship. This organization also helps develop better student-teacher relations, improve school morale, and promote the general welfare of the school.

The council helped with the planning of Homecoming this year. They conducted a student exchange program with many of the area's schools, and sponsored a foster child.

Forensics

The newest team at Windber, this being only it's fifth year, is the Forensics team. Competition in this area is available on both the Jr. and Sr. High levels.

In the Jr. High, the speech categories include informative, poetry, prose, and persuasive. In the Sr. High, three other categories are added. These are boys and girls extemporaneous, and oral interpretation.

Over the past two years, Windber's Jr. High team has been a powerhouse, regularly taking about half the available ribbons at a meet. The Sr. High has not been so lucky, taking only three or four per meet. This, however, is due more to lack of participation of the Sr. High students than lack of skill on the part of those that do participate.

But with the influx of experienced Jr. High students, it is expected that within another two years, the Sr. High also will be able to prove that Windber can become champions in a wide variety of fields.

Being that they will probably still be around to see the end of multi-year program changes, it seems that the Jr. High students pushed hardest to get such programs started. The Jr. High Student Council is a natural vehicle for such ideas, since it is the students' offical link to the administration. Because of this link, it also provides an excellent opportunity to air smaller problems.

The Student Council is not an "all talk — no action" group. Throughout the year, it provides several activities for the students at Windber, including dances and movies.

The purpose of this organization is to bring young people together in high school to share their interest in careers pertaining to the health field, and to explore opportunities and requirements in these fields. The members learn to grow as individuals by working together, and also learn about community life in which they will soon participate as informed citizens.

Their planned activities included trips to various hospitals. Most of the members participated in worthwhile collections for Cerebral Palsy, March of Dimes, and the Salvation Army.

"Stairway to Victory" was the theme for this year's Homecoming.

Festivities officially opened with a bonfire held Thursday night, November 4. Protected by fire companies from both Windber and Scalp Level, the program included selections from the Sr. High Band, and cheers from the Varsity Cheerleaders.

A Pep Rally was held in the gym on Friday afternoon, where the Homecoming Queen, Cindy Damico, and her Court were introduced. They were also introduced at halftime during the North Star game that evening, while the band put on a special halftime show.

Homecoming weekend was closed by a dance held in the gym, sponsored by the Student Council.

It is always a problem to find a constructive outlet for teenage energy. Through a basketball and volleyball league, the Hi-Y provides such an outlet. It gives junior and senior boys a chance to practice athletic skills and good sportsmanship, and through spring basketball games, usually at least one against the faculty, it provides a means of earning funds to contribute to current charities.

Community-minded students at Windber can belong to community-oriented groups without actually being members. This is possible through the Interact and Key Clubs, sponsored by the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs, respectively.

The Interact, long established here at Windber, planned and sponsored Homecoming this year in conjunction with the Student Council. Also, Interact members helped out at the Rotary Basketball Tournament in December.

The Key Club is in its first year at Windber. Sponsored by the Kiwanis Club, its membership is open to all Sr. High boys. Members attend Kiwanis meetings, and participate in fund-raising events, such as sub sales.

The Dramatics Club provides an opportunity for Senior High Students to gain experience in play production. Members participate in acting workshops in the fall, and present a play, if the Senior Class does not.

In connection with the play, members work backstage, putting make-up on the cast, and acting as prompters during the production.

The Stage Crew is open to any interested Senior High Student. After some training with the equipment, members are in charge of the technical aspects of any production in the school. This includes the sound system during Pep Rallies in the gym and assemblies in the auditorium, and they also set up the stage props and work the lights during plays.

Sr. Class Play

This year, the Senior Class presented David Rogers' Flowers for Algernon. The play deals with the science-fiction theme of artificially increased intelligence in a mentally retarded young man, Charlie Gordon, and his problems adjusting to his newfound understanding. Poignant, funny, tragic, but with a hope for the indomitable spirit of man, this play tells a story not soon forgotten.

Christmas Dance

Replacing the VW Dance this year was Windber's first Christmas Dance. It was sponsored by the Senior class, and held in the gym on December 22. Refreshments were served, and music was provided by Hot Gossip.

In mid-December, the Seniors voted and chose fourteen couples for the court. A few days before the dance, these were announced, and a King and Queen chosen from among them, again by a vote of the Seniors. King Barry Jerley and Queen Anna Yauneridge were crowned during the dance by Santa Claus, played by Jim Dolan.

After coming off a rebuilding season, the 1976-77 Rambler football team faced the challenge of restoring Windber's reputation as one of the best small-town football teams in Pennsylvania. Head Coach Joe Flori made sure the Ramblers were prepared to take on this task. He drilled his team long and hard during the two weeks they spent at Camp Hamilton.

The days and weeks of preparation were put to the test in the Rambler's home opener with the Spartans of Vo-Tech. Vo-Tech, like Windber, was coming off a rebuilding season. Windber took a 3-0 lead in the first quarter on a 25-yard field goal. Neither team could score in the second stanza. On their first possession of the second half, however, the Ramblers drove 49 yards to paydirt for a 10-0 lead. The Ramblers again got on the board in the fourth quarter, driving 55 yards to set the score at 17-0. The Spartans finally managed to score on the Rambler reserves late in the fourth to set the final score at 17-6.

The next test for the Ramblers came at Ebensburg against a big team from Bishop Carroll. Windber found the big guys tough to move in the first half and went into the locker room with a slim 7-6 lead. Things were different though when a fired-up Rambler team came out for the second half. Windber rolled over the big Huskie line for three TD's and a 27-6 lead. The Huskies scored late in the last stanza, and the final read Windber 27, Bishop Carroll 14.

HEAD COACH: Joe Flori – Somerset County Coach of the Year

The win over Carroll set an exciting atmosphere for the Rambler's next conflict with the arch-rival Richland Rams. The Rams were also coming into the game with a 2-0 mark. Tension mounted as the game got under way. This pressure helped cause a Rambler fumble of the opening kickoff. The Rams learned early, though, that running against the tough Rambler defense was difficult.

Richland took to the air and came up with a TD and an early 6-0 lead. It took the Ramblers most of the remaining first quarter to shake off the "butterflies" that caused numerous penalties. The Windber Blue and White then got down to business and punched one over to take a slim 7-6 lead in the second quarter. The defenses controlled the rest of the quarter and the score remained the same at halftime. The Rams took the second half kickoff but were unable to move the ball and were forced to punt. On their initial play the Rams fumbled and the Ramblers again had a golden opportunity to score. The Rambler drive was stopped at the one by still another penalty. A fourth down pass fell short and the Rams took over. A Ram drive was stopped at their 41-yard line and the ball game was over. Richland was called for two major penalties enabling the Ramblers to put the icing on the cake and take the game by a 15-6 count.

The Ramblers got their first scare of the season the next week as the Bedford Bisons visited Windber Stadium. The Bison's stunned the Coaltowners by bowling over the surprised Rambler defense for a 16-0 first half lead. The fired-up Windber squad proved that all good teams can come back, and wasted no time taking the second half kickoff in for a score. The try for two came up short, however, and the scoreboard read Visitors 16, Home 6. The rejuvenated Rambler defense stifled the Bison offense while the Rambler offense moved the ball well and hit paydirt for the second time in the third quarter. Again a run for two points failed setting the score at 16-12. In the fourth quarter the Rambler defense held tough, but the offense sputtered. Finally the Blue and White got its chance when the Bedford punter could not handle a high snap from center and the Ramblers came up with the ball on the Bison 18-yard line. Windber scored three plays later and came up with the hard fought, come-from-behind, 19-16 victory.

The Ramblers traveled to Somerset for their fifth game of the season. A steady rain created a very sloppy field. Despite the slippery conditions, the Ramblers took the opening kickoff deep into Somerset territory. A penalty slowed Windber down and the Rambler threat was stopped. The first score of the game came in the second stanza and put the Ramblers ahead 6-0. The rain continued to pour making it difficult for either offense to mount a drive. Early in the third quarter the Rambler defense was caught flat-footed and the big Somerset fullback scampered through the line 55 yards for an Eagle TD. The extra point failed and the score was deadlocked 6-6. Late in the fourth quarter a host of Windber rushers swarmed into the Eagle's backfield and deflected a punt. The Ramblers could not get into the end zone; so the Rambler quarterback was called upon to kick a field goal. His second attempt of the season was good, and Windber remained undefeated with a 9-6 victory.

Windber put its 5-0 record on the line at home against Conemaugh Township the next week. The Indians were the toughest team the Ramblers faced up to this point. Township stunned the Rambler defense with an 83-yard run. The run was shortened, however, by a clipping penalty, and the defense tightened up and held the Indians scoreless. The Ramblers then mounted their only touchdown drive of the game, marching from their own 24-yard line to paydirt in 11 plays.

Both teams played hard-nosed defense the rest of the game, but Township finally broke through for a score late in the last quarter. Going for the win instead of the tie, the Indians tried to run the ball over for two points. The Township running back never got out of his own backfield. The Florimen came away with a thrilling 7-6 victory and a perfect 6-0 record.

The Ramblers were handed their first disappointment of the season in the form of a 12-12 deadlock with the Westmont Hilltoppers. There was no scoring in the first quarter but the statistics favored the Hilltoppers greatly with a margin of 2-1 in first downs, 32 to -2 in net yards, two sacks, and one interception. In the second quarter the Hilltoppers took the ball in for a TD with a pass from the quarterback to the tight end. The conversion failed, however, leaving the score 6-0, the only score of the first half.

Row 1: Timothy Voytko, Joseph Flori. Row 2: Patrick Pollino, Joseph Hancharik

After coming out of the dressing room at half time the Hilltoppers received the ball and continued to move down the field where they again took it into the end zone. The Ramblers stopped the conversion for the second time, though, leaving the score 12-0. With Westmont back in the hole, the Hilltopper punter fumbled the snap leaving the Ramblers on the 10-yard line with 6:05 left in the ball game. One play later, Windber scored on a pass from the Rambler quarterback to his right halfback but failed to complete the conversion. The score stood at 12-6. The Ramblers then proceeded to a comeback when they recovered a fumble and took it down to the seven-yard line, where the quarterback this time fired to his fullback for the second TD, with only 1:20 left to go. The kick was blocked, and the game ended in a 12-12 deadlock.

The Ramblers could not put it together the first half of the game against McCort. Twice the Crushers proceeded to move down the field to score two TD's against the Ramblers, but only scoring one two-point conversion. The first half concluded with the Crushers leading 14-0. After coming out of the locker room the Ramblers started putting it together right from the start with a kickoff return that went the whole way for a Windber TD. The pass for the two-point conversion was knocked down making the score 14-6. Stopping the Crushers, the Ramblers took possession of the ball. Then a fumble was recovered by the Crushers. They moved down the field and scored their final touchdown and conversion ending the game 21-6.

The Blue and White Machine put up a good fight against Forest Hills despite playing without three key starters. The Windber Ramblers started off the first drive of the game going down to the Ranger's four, but they were unable to make it over for the TD. After an exchange of fumbles in the first two quarters, the Rangers blocked a Rambler punt on the Rambler 31-yard line. Seven plays later the Rangers scored on a pass but failed to make the two-point conversion. This left the score at the half 6-0. In the third quarter, the Ramblers proceeded with another promising drive going down to the Ranger 11 where a fumble crippled their hopes. However, this did not dampen the Windber spirit for long, because the young Rambler defensive backfield came up with a spectacular interception on the Ranger 22. This last good chance was hampered by penalties; so the Ramblers had to punt the ball away. The Rangers took a later punt and moved the ball down the field to score their final TD with a pass to their tight end. The Ramblers stopped the conversion, and the game ended with the score 12-0.

The Windber Ramblers finally put everything together for their last game and completely overwhelmed North Star. The first half concluded with the two teams trading touchdowns. After the intermission, the mighty Ramblers took solid command of the situation with the fullback scoring four more touchdowns in the last two quarters to give the Ramblers 35 points and a victory. This concluded the season and gave the Rambler gridders an impressive 7-2-1 record.

Throughout the 1976-1977 Girls' Basketball Season, hard work, determination, and sportsmanship were evident in every game played. With only two returning seniors, the team had to rely heavily on the upcoming skills of the underclassmen. The varsity girls ended up with a four and eight (4-8) record, scoring wins against Laurel Valley, (twice) Ferndale, and Johnstown, while taking third place in the Rotary Tournament held in the W. A. H. S. gym. Looking forward to the seasons ahead, with the already proven hustle and more support from W. A. H. S. fans, the girls should have a promising outlook in their games to come.

Girls' Volleyball and Girls' Softball are the two newest additions to the girls' sports program at W.A.H.S. The 1977 season is only the fourth season for girls' volleyball. The team is coached by Mrs. Cecilia Kittel. This year's team is led by seniors Wendy Tvardzik and Joan Shark. They will be trying to improve on last year's record of 3 wins and 7 losses. The girls lack experience but are making up for it with hard work. With this continued hard work and a lot of fan support the 1977 campaign should be an exciting one.

Joan Shark

This year will be the third season for girls' softball at W.A.H.S. Coaching this year's team will be Mrs. Cecilia Kittel. Last year's team, which was young and inexperienced, managed to pick up only one win. This year the girls are still rather young but most of them have some playing experience behind them. Girls' softball is still quite unknown around Windber, but if the girls come through with a good season more people might stand up and take notice of this new sport at W.A.H.S.

Varsity Basketball

Following the accomplishments of the previous Rambler basketball team would be no easy task for anyone. What made it even harder for this year's team was the fact that it had only one returning letterman. But the squad made up for its lack of experience through constant hustle and determination.

Throughout the year, the Rambler cagers seemed to be able to get the job done in one way or another. One night they would use their full-court defense to force their opponent into turnovers or taking bad shots. The next time they might use red hot shooting from the outside and make the other team work even harder on the defense. And if nothing else worked, they would dominate the boards enabling them to take more shots and keep their opponent from getting as many attempts.

Using the kind of determination and pride that has been a part of so many Windber teams down through the years, the Ramblers stormed through their first thirteen games without a loss. They had very little trouble in the first five games as they defeated Penn Cambria 84-57, Forest Hills twice, 75-62 and 94-71, destroyed Ligonier rambled on to beat Westmont 88-52.

Next, the team traveled to Bedford where the Bisons tried to slow down the game by using a very deliberate style of offense. This was the first attempt by an opponent this year to control Windber's run and gun style of play. It worked fairly well, but was not enough as the young Ramblers turned back Bedford, 51-44.

After the trip to Bedford the Ramblers seemed to slow down some. But the defense tightened up as the team put two more notches in the win column by beating Penn Cambria for the second time, 67-48 and a tough Central squad, 70-82.

Next came the Windber Rotary Tournament. Despite a slow start, some poor shooting, and a few players being in early foul trouble, Windber eluded Conemaugh Township 76-53. This set up the championship game with Bishop Carroll. It was a close contest the entire game and the Ramblers pulled off a win by the score of 58-57 in their toughest game thus far. The performances of John Mucciola and Skip Bostock earned them a spot on the All Tournament Team. Bostock was also named the "Most Valuable Player" of the tournament.

After capturing the Rotary title, the Ramblers played their next two games on the road. First came the Eagles of Somerset. In their second meeting, the Eagles put up a much better fight on their own floor, but still fell by the score of 84-75. Next on the agenda was Central Cambria. The Red Devils also made it rough, but once again the Coaltowners prevailed 79-69.

For the second year in a row the number thirteen proved to be an unlucky one for Windber. As did last year's team, this year's squad ran up an impressive 13-0 record but then dropp-d their next game. This year the streak was broken by arch-rival Richland. Early in the game the Rams obtained a twelve point lead; but, the Ramblers battled back to trail by 1 point at half time. Richland went on to pull off the victory in the closing seconds by a 76-68 margin.

Regrouping from this heartbreaking defeat, the team went on to record victories in its next four games. These included Cambria Heights and Central Cambria at home and Indiana and Johnstown Vo-tech at their respective gymnasiums. In doing so, Windber regained the lead in the Tri-County league and was eager to take on Richland once again.

In the first half of their rematch with the Rams, the Ramblers gained the early lead and were up by as much as nine points. In the second half the lead went back and forth and in the end the Rams again came out on top, 61-55.

Poise is a mark of a great team and for the second time Windber demonstrated its poise by rebounding from its defeat to win the last game at home for the 76-77 campaign. With the Rambler press in high gear, the pressure never let up as Windber rambled to a decisive 115-69 victory over Indiana.

Windber ended the regular season by making up two games which had been postponed due to bad weather. First they traveled to Cambria Heights where they squeaked by a feisty Highlander team by the score 44-42. Then in their last regular season game the Ramblers visited Westmont Hilltop High School. They had little trouble in defeating the Hilltoppers, 95-69.

With the regular season over, the Ramblers record stood at twenty wins and two defeats. This is one of the finest records Windber has ever had, and it earned them a spot in the District 6 playoffs.

This year's track team had a highly successful season. It was successful, not only in terms of overall team achievement, but also in the personal triumphs, rewards, and the warm memories that this season created. Back from last year's extremely successful squad were eleven senior lettermen. These included three state qualifiers: Matt Klena, Lee Hoffer, and Ray Palumbo. Hoffer placed 6th in the 880 yard dash in the 1976 State Track Meet, setting a W.A.H.S. record. Other lettermen were Paul Katch, John Gentile, Greg Domonkos, Jeff Spencer, Greg Solensky, Jim Stossel, Tom Keirn and Alan Brumbaugh. This year's extended schedule includes such prestigious meets as the Mountain Conference Relays, the Mountain Conference Championships, the Somerset County Meet, the District 5 Meet and possibly, the State Meet for some of the trackmen. Undoubtedly, this year's squad will provide many fond memories for coaches Smutko, Campitell, and Spinazzola and all those athletes who participated in the '77 track season.

Varsity Baseball

This year's baseball team had a respectable year. With a couple more pitchers to help senior hurler Dan Blackburn, they could have been a major contender for the Tri-County League crown. The other seniors on the team were Tim Wise, Dave Torquato, Blase Patrick, and Tim Keirn. Junior lettermen Chuck Ozimok, Mike Pascovich, and Dale Tomlinson along with the other underclassmen made significant contributions towards the accomplishments of the club. Despite the lack of experience and pitching, the team made up for it by working hard at practice on their hitting, fielding, and base running. Their hustle and desire made them a worthy opponent for anyone anytime they took to the field. Coach Petro always had his team ready to do their best and with a lot of hard work and some strong leadership from the returning lettermen, next year should be another good one for the Ramblers, and possibly one in which the league championship will come their way.

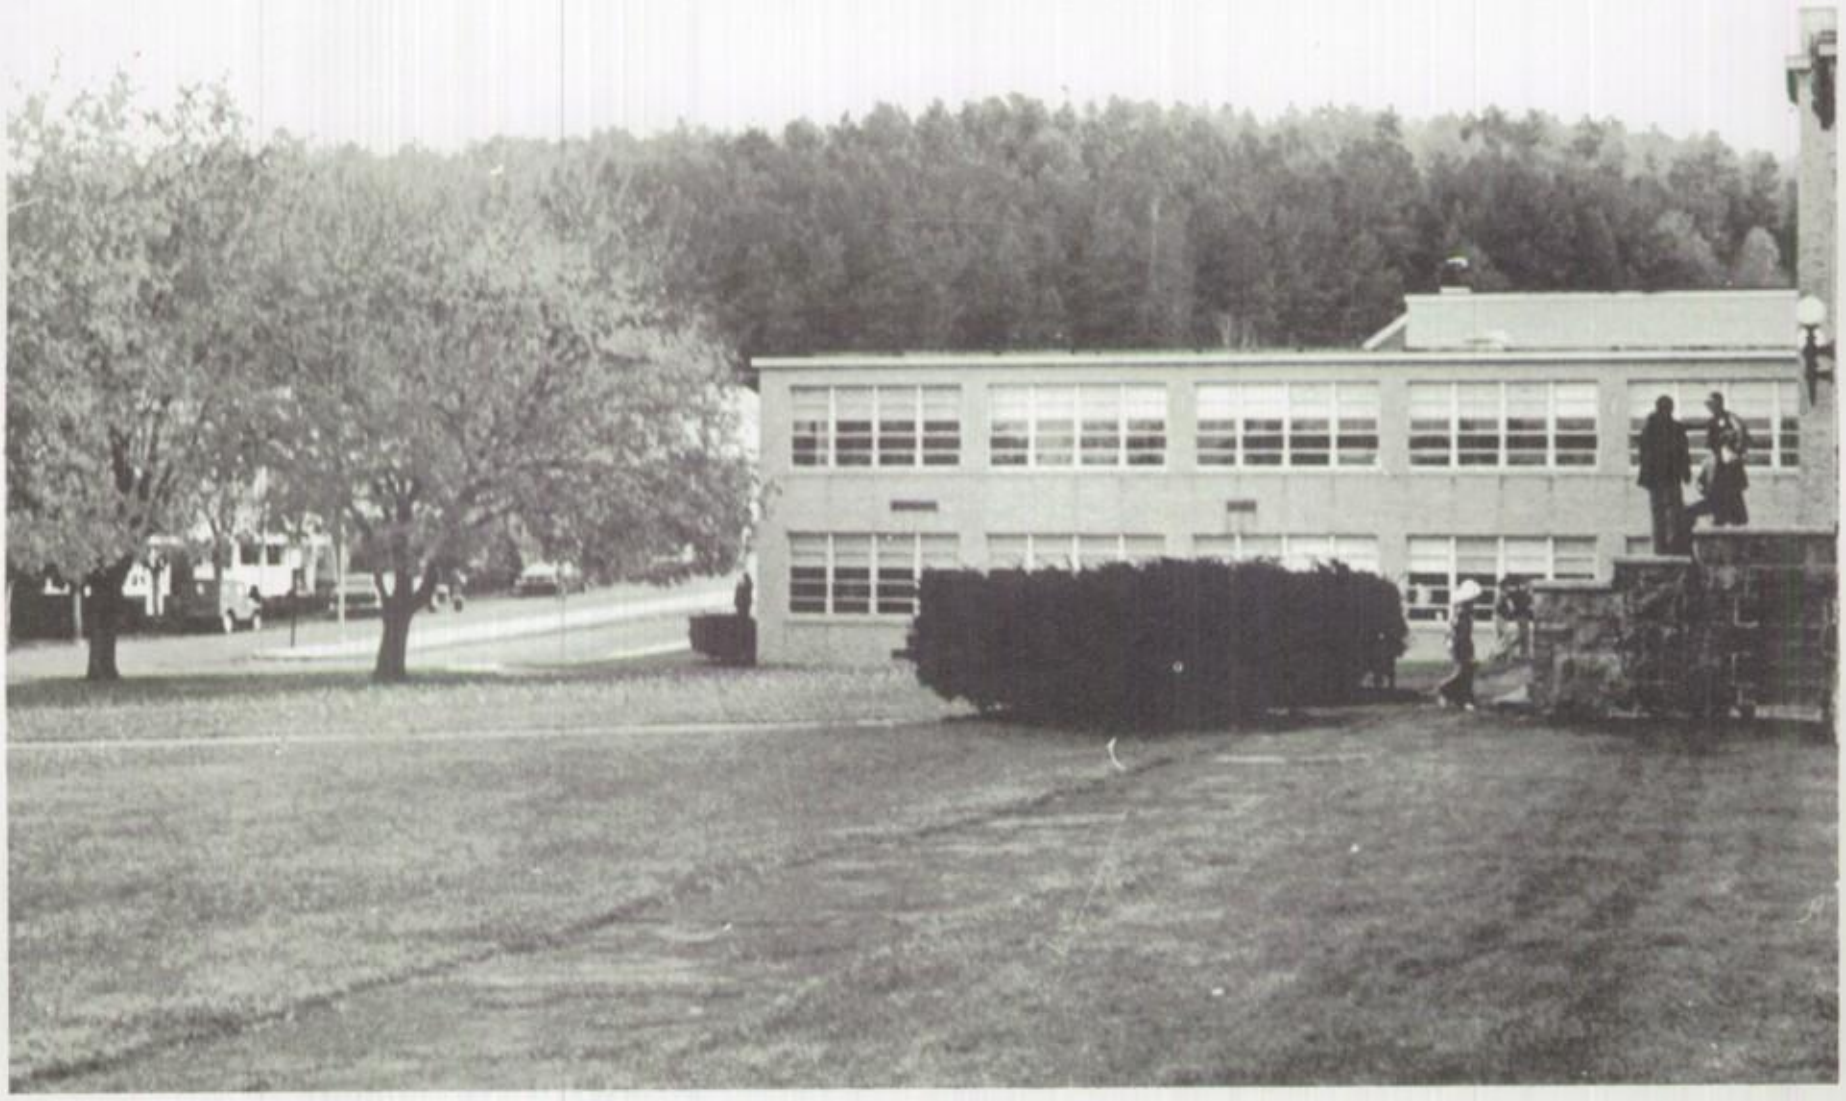
The 1977 Stylus Staff gratefully acknowledges the cooperation and assistance of The Administration, Faculty, Services, and Students, Windber Board of Education, Mr. Alcamo, Dr. Landis, Cover Studio, Miss Kochinski, Mr. Lambert, Mr. Ripple, Mr. Urian, Mrs. Whitaker, and Mr. Yocca.



Although you have reached the end of this book, as well as the close of the school year, and ultimately the completion of a very important chapter in your life, it is the sincere hope of the 1977 staff that the memories that have been stirred up within your mind will last forever. We feel confident that we have accomplished our task, which was to provide a cherished momentum of our high school days.

The staff would also like to extend our personal congratulations to each senior for the many accomplishments accumulated during the years spent at W.A.H.S. As we depart to go our separate ways we hope that every one of you will strive to achieve the goals you have set for yourselves. May your determination be unceasing, your success bountiful, and may your life always be rich in happiness and filled with love.
